

GRIER RAGGIO

A VOICE FOR TEXAS — NOT THE SPECIAL INTERESTS

Grier Raggio is a small business owner, a lawyer and a community leader. Grier is running for Congress to make some big changes and bring Texas values to Washington.

About Grier:

- Born and raised in Texas
- Grew up and attended schools in the 32nd District
- Successful family law attorney and small business owner
- Civil rights worker
- Served on UT-Southwestern President's Research Council, Steering Committee
- Son of Grier Raggio, Sr., WWII Veteran, and Louise Raggio, who helped ensure equal rights for all married women in Texas
- Married to Judge Lorraine Raggio, 162nd Civil District Court
- Father of three adult daughters and grandfather of two grandchildren

RAGGIO

FOR CONGRESS ★ ★

RaggioForCongress.com

MAKING WASHINGTON WORK FOR US

Grier Raggio is not a career politician. He's running for Congress because Washington has stopped working for us.

Making Washington Live Within Its Means

Grier believes Washington is broken. While big banks, auto companies and special interests get bailouts, Congress isn't doing enough to help struggling families. Grier has the experience and commitment to make tough decisions to solve America's budget issues.

Growing Our Economy

The best way to grow our economy is to invest in our future. That's why Grier supports investing strongly in education and in our infrastructure.

Ending Business as Usual in Washington

Grier believes that elected officials should be held to the highest ethical standards. He will fight for comprehensive ethics reform in Washington to curb the influence of special interest money and the perks and privileges of career politicians.

A portrait of Grier Raggio, a middle-aged man with short hair, wearing a white dress shirt and a blue patterned tie. He is smiling and looking towards the camera. The background is a soft-focus outdoor setting with greenery.

RAGGIO

FOR CONGRESS ★ ★

If we want Washington to work,
we have to fix what's broken.

www.RaggioForCongress.com